Dumping Ground.

Cleaning, and the assurance that thorough disinfection would remove all source of complain.
This has not been done.

Vermit me to state that one of the natural rights of the people of the State of New York is the right to breathe pure art in their homes.
The rich can buy pure water imported from uncontaminated sources, but no method has yet been discovered for feeding the ungs on imported air.
That a necessity exists for disinfecting the corrupt material deponded by a public department of the city of New York, in a place where its vile emanations can poison the air we have to breathe, establishes the crime of that department. No private individual would be permitted to so injure his neighbors, and the feetileness of the board of Health in not proterling the people against such a gross outrage is a dishoner to them, or the laws they act sinder. We protect ourselves from the terror of outside infections, while the Board of Health supinely permits a worse source of disease in our midet.

How many lives must be sacrificed, haw much suffering must be endured, before the public's sleepy servants wake up to do their duty.
What influences are at work in the StreetCleaning Department which induces it knowincly and selently to suffer such a wrong? When the cholera scare was in full swing, suggestions for destroying garlage were under consideration, and the necessity for such disposition was recognized, and its dangerous unsultableness for dumping on land admitted, and what was true then in this respect is equally true to-day.

Will you need a catalogue of deaths and suffer-

HONORS TO THE DEAD PRESIDENT.

The funeral ceremonies in Paris yes-French people for their dead President. was a wonderful demonstration, both as a military display, as a mighty gathering of the people of all classes. and as an evidence of the earnest, tearheartfelt, sorrow of a stricken nation.

It is difficult on any public occasion to keep down the exuberant spirits of the French people. But the seriousness of the crowds showed how deeply the National loss was felt, and how truly Macmarchor Hall entertainment June 29. the people sympathize with the family of their dead President.

The funeral services in Washington Neitle Dermody and Edna Greenleaf ..... and in this and other cities prove that The Major ... this sympathy is felt in America as well Annie Distroy and others. as in Europe and extends over the L. ### EXPERT TESTIMONY.

During the diagraceful personalities infulged in during last year's election campaign in Richmond County Mr. Tully. the Democratic County Treasurer, was charged with being a defaulter. The Board of Supervisors set an expert accountant to examine Mr. Tully's accounts, and he declared them to be all right. But the opposition declared that the examination was a "fake," and set an accountant of their own to work, who alleged that he found the books all wrong. Then two more "experts" were employed, and the one engaged by the -called "reformers" declared Treasurer Tully a defaulter to the amount of eleven usand dollars.

At last the Grand Jury and Judge Cullen, who had been waiting for the result of the battle of the experts, set a firm of well-known New York accountants to work to check every figure, warrant and voucher in Mr. Tully's office, and they find the accounts correct and balance.

As two expert accountants had pronounced him a defaulter, the value of 'expert" testimony is well illustrated in case that has delayed and bothered

NEW FOURTH OF JULY DEVICES.

There are some new fireworks for the fourth of July. Chief among them is a string of about 1,000 small crackers, which explode with a volley effect and wind up with a bomb bursting in air or something of that vigorous and earsplitting kind. Then there are American firecrackers in which giant powder is olled tight, so that the noise one makes when touched off carr be heard clean cross a small State like Rhode Island. Plenty of devices for rasping the nerves supersensitive citizens have been added to the already large and varied stock of Fourth of July peace-destroyers. Men and women who do not like to be listurbed on the National holiday will be made to feel more uncomfortable than on the coming fete day. But they will have the consolation that no device has yet been invented which will keep the small boy from burning off his brother's celebration, or from filling his own or a ompanion's face with blue powder-marks out of a pistol that wouldn't go off until the trigger was pulled for the 716th time. when of course a voungeter was squinting down the muzzle to find out what th trouble was.

The Fourth of July whoopers-up bring their own retribution with them, and though most of us sympathize with the victims of the skyrocket and big cannon. there are people who read the long casualties column with a great deal of ghoulish give the morning of July 5. The Whiskey Trust falled to work the United States Senate for an additional tax of twenty cents per gallon. The Sugar Trust wasn't even appreciably delayed in its move for the present "compromise" schedule. Why this Senatorial discrimination between trusts?

For this splendid contribution, the gift of the great dry-goods firm, Mr. Nathan Straus is entirely responsible. He provoked it.

The schemes of benevolence and charty with which the merchant-philanthropist has been identified are well known to everybody in New York. The selpless and helpful classes of society are thoroughly familiar with his graclous reform work. Relief clubs have seen promoted and extended through is favor, and the destitute and wretched have been assisted and encouraged.

Mr. Straus has lodged and fed the homeless provided employment for aimles of idle wage-earners, given support to sick persons and young children.

Mr. Siraus has lodged and fed the homeless provided employment for armies of idle wage-earners, given support to sick persons and young children, gone security for back rent and family indebtedness, and organized a rational system of burial.

In all these good works he has been personally interested, but his pet charity is childrens aid. He was instrumental in getting shelter on the river piers for the comfort of the poor families who eat, sleep and live there during the intensely hot weather, when indoor tenement-house life would be death. On the docks where the needy bought coal at cost price all Winter he has placed drinking booths, and now supplies thirsty childhood with the cheapest and best milk to be had anywhere.

The people's baths have long enjoyed his support and the benefit of his judgment, and thousands of little folks owe him their first lesson in decent living. Mr. Straus believes that the acme of reform work is the work done to reform work is the work done to reform that part of the population deformed and degraded by parental ignorance. His interest in the Sick Babies' Fund is one of the strongest arguments of its practical service to the poor. His lieutenants have seen the free doctors at work and witnessed the results of their efforts; their verbal reports convinced him that the fund deserved the support and co-operation of every able and well-disposed citizen in the community, and at his suggestion the great Fourteenth street dry-goods firm sent a check for $100.

street dry-goods firm sent a check for $100.

This is the biggest subscription of the year. It gives the fund a glorious upward tendency, in keeping with the sky-rocketing celebrating in the town, and it sustains Macy & Co.'s reputation of doing things on a grand scale. That $100 check will put 10) sick babies on the road to health. And if it serves to show other merchants their duty to humanity and the obligations dus their coming customers it will indeed lead all the rest.

Charity like R. H. Macy & Co.'s has been called the privilege of affluent refinement; it is more—it is natural compassionate instinct.

The conference will be health in the Mayor's office to-morrow and the question of selecting another dumping ground will be considered thea. The sub-committee appointed by the Committee of Fifty consists of Arthur C. Houts, Ernest Hall, Frank T. Oliver, G. R. Ackerman and Theodore Macy.

Pending the outcome of to-morrow's meeting, the Committee will defer going before the Grand Jury to have Andrews indicted.

The Committee has also appealed to Gov. Flower. The local Board of Health having failed to discover any smells or evil effects from the Riker's Island dump, the Committee asks the Governor to compel it to perform its duty. The Committee makes public correspondence on the subject, carried on through Gieorge A. Black, with Gov. Flower.

The value of the property will be determined by the Commissioners, who will give hearings for that purpose. The widening and extension of Elm street for the relief of crowded Broadway was one of Mayor Gilroy's pet projects. One of his first undertakings when he took office was to have a law work an early possibility, but it is not likely, owing to the many delays, that it will even be begun during his term made by dipping rather small, evensized tomatoes in scalding water, removing the outer skin immediately and see the true reason why good men do not hasten placing them whole on ice. Then make a mayonnaise, and when the tomatoes are perfectly cold, place each one in a little bed of crisp lettuce leaves

Dainty Handkerchiefs.

Linen merchants sell a narrow hemmed handkerchief of fair linen for 25 cents. For 15 cents enough imitation Valenciennes lace may be had to trim it. If it is done up in the French way that is, ironed wet, but without a suspicion of starch, the handkerchief will look quite like a $2 linen lawn with real lace. One of the evidences of a wo man's refinement is her handkerchief.

Smart London Newspaper Woman One of the few women reporters i London who does not call herself "lady journalist" is Miss Tooley, the wife of a broken-down editor and the main support of a little household. It was Miss Frances Willard who gave her a lift August. And with the Lexow Committee coming back in early September.

Dr. Grandy, of the Chambers Street Hospital, refused twice at the hospital and once at the police station last night to station a man who had a bad gash on the side of his head. He finally relented to the side of his head. He finally relented to the side of his head. He finally relented to the side of his head. A light for the collected with furgery in the second description as residuely as a light of the commissioners are deen. Danie of the commissio confided to her that "Grandpapa goes to Parliament with his book to say his lesson." Mrs. Tooley gets $10 for "a good two-column interview," and is paid on the nail, as the saying is. If it isn't to the editor's taste she gets nothingbut an invitation to call again when she happens to have something riper. Most of the London newspaper women have hard rows to hoe. There are young birds in the home nest to feed and the mate is either lost or hopelessly handicapped. They work under heavy pressure and the uncertainty of a market that, while overcrowded, is neither wide nor profitable

How the Bride Cake Started.

The bride's cake of to-day is a relig f a Roman custom. At a Roman marriage the bride was expected to pre-pare a part, at least, of the wedding feast with her own hands.

A Dry Shampoo. Many women who have luxurious tresses and who take cold easily are obliged to forego washing them as often as they would like because of the difficulty of getting them dry quickly For such, a dry shampoo is the next best thing, and, if carefully and thoroughly done, it removes the accumulat-ed dust and dandruff almost as well as washing. The hair should be shaken loosely out over the shoulders, and the head manipulated with the rengers till all foreign matter is well loosened and scattered through the hair , which should then be parted in different places all over the head, and the parts cleansed with a stiff little brush, after which the entire head and hair should be very thoroughly brushed in sections till the dandruff is brushed out as much as possible, when some good hair tonic of scalp cleanser may be rubbed on and the snarls engendered by the whole pro cess gently combed out, and the ends of the hair clipped. This last should always be done once a month to promote the growth of the hair.

A Table Card-Receiver.

One of the most effective card-receivers is a table. It has a tripod standard and is rather higher than the ordinary stand. The small top is a sunken porcelain plaque usually beautifully painted, although the decoration is hidden by its contents of cards which it receives from its station in the wide entrance

Rice and Mushrooms.

Croquettes of rice and mushrooms are luxury. Put one pound of mushrooms n a quart of water or vegetable stock, with a carrot, a leaf of celery, a slice of onion, a little parsley and a bunch of of herbs, and boil gently for three or four butter on top and browned quickly in a hours. Strain, mince the mushrooms finely, put them in a stewpan with fou ounces of rice, the strained stock and more seasoning, if required. Cook till the rice is tender, then drain and leave till cool, when shape the mixture into balls or corks, roll them in bread crumbs, pass through beaten egg, fry in boiling ### nish with parsley. False Objects in Marriage.

The woman who marries for money, for a home, for social position has no possible reason to complain because she finds herself without love and congenial companionship. She has received that which she bargained for, and in all probability received a full equivalent for what she gave. She was compelled by no iron yoke of law or necessity, and she has neither moral nor commercial ### reason to complain. Turkey Saute.

Cut the meat of a cold cooked turkey or small pieces. Melt two ounces of butter or dripping in a saucekey first on one side, and then on the Add one tablespoonful of flour and stir until smooth; then add one cup of stock, stir until it thickens and serve. Peas can be added, if destred.

Beware of Yellow Green. Yelow green is a color to be sparingly and cautiously worn. It is rarely becoming, and has a pitless tendency to bring out in bold relief every trace of illness or fatigue in those who may sometimes don it with impunity. Such a color should never be selected for a gown, or its garniture, which must be

Elegant Simplicity.

This is what the English call elegant implicity, and it certainly is lady-like. The material is crinkle cloth, with moire allk yoke and elbow cuffs. A narrew jet braid is used to finish the collar band, yoke and waist band.
